Roles are positions, not words: every template token has its own role, the interior of the user turn shares one, the suffix is indexed from the end. 'dog' and 'cat' are z-scored against the same clean (layer, role) cell wherever they sit in the interior.

